

Map of Verified Educators in the US

The map displays the global distribution of 1000 sampling locations, represented by blue dots. The locations are most densely clustered in North America, particularly in the eastern and central United States. Other significant clusters are found in Europe, especially in Western and Central Europe, and in East Asia, including China and Japan. Dots are also scattered across South America, Africa, and Australia. The map includes labels for major countries and oceans.